Welfare Society Supplies Low as Demand Increases

The recent cold snap sent scores of unemployed and needy to the commissary department of the Family Welfare society in the Y. M. C. A. building where workers were helpless to furnish them with many of the articles needed for comfort and protection in the face of the winter weather.

A sheck of the shelves show the department stands in need of shoes for men and children, house-dresses for women, shirts and trousers for men, blouses for boys and underwear for all members of families. Where women can sew and have machines with which to make over garments they are sewing for themselves and their families. They also are utilizing the garments which can not be made over for piecing comforter tops.

A report issued by the society showed that more than 500 families had received articles of clothing during the 13-week period which ended Jan. 23, this year, a number considerably higher than the corresponding period last year. The total number receiving assistance was 525, according to the report which shows that 10,047 articles of furniture, dishes, curtains and other household necessities had been distributed.

A total of 1,029 pairs of shoes was distributed during the period. Of this number 237 were women's shoes, 287 girls, 31 babies, 281 boys and 193 men. More than 2,000 pairs of stockings were distributed and 1,509 suits of underwear. Other articles distributed during the 13-wee period were: house slippers, 12; overshoes, 45; galoshes, 50; overalls, 89; trousers, 317; shirts, 398; hats and caps, 254; overcoats, 147; sweaters, 91; wash suits, 103; coats, 342; dresses, 964; petticoats 345; gowns and pajamas, 88; gloves, 41; scarfs and ties, 2; aprons, 11; raincoats, 14. Eight hundred-and-fifty-eight pairs of shoes were repaired during the period.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To quickly end stubborn coughs due to colds, it is important to soothe the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, saves money, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

DETERMINE ON TEST OF HARTER'S SANITY

Confessed Slayer of Former Marion Man To Undergo Examination.

Charles "Jeff" Harter, 42, of Lima, under indictment for first degree murder in the slaying last October of Emery E. Northrup, 53, native of Marion county and Lima recluse, will undergo a sanity hearing some time this week, word from Lima indicates.

Northrup, who was born in Prospect township, was killed on the night of Oct. 24 after he and Harter had spent the night together. Harter is said to have confessed the fatal shooting to Lima police. Harter, a World war veteran, is said to be shellshocked.

The sanity hearing was granted Jan. 27 by Judge E. E. Everett in Allen county common pleas court after a plea of not guilty had been entered by Harter's counsel at an arraignment. Harter was remanded to jail pending the completion of plans for the examination.

If Harter is adjudged mentally unbalanced, he will be committed to the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

125 DEMOCRATS AT WASHINGTON MEET

First President Honored at Meeting of County Club Here.

The Marion County Democratic club last night gave the first of a number of club programs planned in honor of the memory of George Washington, whose bicentennial is being celebrated throughout the country this year.

The entire regular meeting of the club was given over to the special program in charge of Miss Estella Smith, program chairman. The program was given in Democratic headquarters in the Marion National bank building with 125 present.

Howard Guthery gave an interesting sketch of Washington as a politician, and Miss Mary Lois Ritzler of Green Camp gave a biographical sketch of the first president.

A flag with the original 13 stars in its field of blue was in place when the program opened with patriotic songs. Following Miss Ritzler's talk, a quartet composed of Howard Orr, Forest Hill, James Walsh and Henry Ebert gave several numbers.

Miss Smith read a group of revolutionary poems, including one by Thomas Payne, and another written about the first Thanksgiving after the close of the Revolutionary war.

Singing of "America" closed the program after Howard Guthery's talk. A "George Washington lunch" was served, and miniature hatchets were given as souvenirs

Nanking Forces in Battle Array

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Feb. 2 — Japanese and Chinese troops faced each others across a narrow no man's land in Nanking's native section today while municipal officials sought to ward off a battle.

The Japanese landed bluejackets shortly before noon. They occupied Tung-Tai hill, overlooking Nanking.

Chinese troops immediately were sent to the area to resist any attack and a battle seemed inevitable. However, the police chief conferred with the Japanese naval commander, urging cooperative efforts to prevent further hostilities.

Landing of the Japanese bluejackets followed a protest by Japanese naval officers, who claimed the Chinese troops fired upon the Japanese bluejackets last night. This, they said, was the reason the warships opened fire upon the city.

Japs to Maintain "Defense" Policy

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Feb. 2—Official Japan today indicated the country would continue to follow what it called defensive policy in China.

Reorganization of the navy was announced. It included formation of a third Japanese fleet, uniting all the naval units in South China waters, including those at Shanghai, under one command. In addition, the navy was given a new general head, bringing it under the direct supervision of a member of the family of the emperor. Admiral Prince Hiroyasu Fushimi.

The cabinet sat for three and a half hours and when it adjourned it was merely announced that it had reached important decisions affecting the national defense and foreign and financial policies.

Foreign Minister Yoshizawa presented the protests of Great Britain and the United States against the policy at Shanghai. A spokesman indicated that the wording and tenor of the verbal protests presented yesterday by Ambassador Forbes was quite "stiff."

W. N. Harder, Marion attorney, will speak at the postponed meeting, taking as his subject, "Abraham Lincoln." The meeting will be held on the anniversary of Lincoln's birth.

AT PRESENT, while we are still out of war, it is wise to see both sides. We tell Japan what she may or may not do, in Asia, because western nations have their settlements in Shanghai. Japan has her settlements here. Suppose we had a war, and Japan sent battleships and marines to New York or San Francisco harbor to "protect her nationals," what should we say?

Recently Italy sent forces against Greece, because of injury to Italian officials, and collected ten millions of dollars damage from Greece. The League of Nations protested, but Greece paid.

IT IS SAID "this country would not tolerate another war, the big war is too close to us." That is inaccurate. Flags would fly, drums would beat, propaganda would spread, race hatreds would be invoked, "right or wrong my country" would be printed in biggest type. And within a week he who, today, might safely protest against war, would be called a traitor, unless he expressed a desire to wipe out the life of every enemy Asiatic. Things happen quickly. We might not be asked to deprive our own children of bread or sugar, in order to feed the little Mongolians, Thibetans or Koreans, but it would be much the same old war.

YESTERDAY you might have seen dozens of American fighting ships, in Los Angeles and San Diego harbors, steam up, smoke pouring out, scores of small boats darting to shore and back. The battleships, you were told, had on board provisions for one year. What would happen to those ships if we sent them to meet the new kind of airplane and submarine war? What sort of "depression" should we have at the end of the adventure?

M'DONALD TO SUBMIT TO EYE OPERATION

Overwork Blamed for Slight Impairment of Premier's Vision; Not Serious.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 2 Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will undergo an operation immediately after tomorrow's cabinet meeting, for "a slight and progressive diminution of the vision of his left eye," caused by overwork, it was announced today.

The bulletin was signed by the prime minister's physicians.

The prime minister's general health was stated to be satisfactory but the operation means it will not be possible for him to go to Geneva during the coming week-end as he had planned, it was stated.

MacDonald's friends have warned him for months that the strain on his eyes from the great amount of studying he has been doing on national problems would wear him out. During the recent cabinet crisis he worked 20 hours a day. The operation was described as a very delicate one, but not serious.

What Acidity Does to Sleep

12 o'clock—1 o'clock—2 o'clock—and still no sleep! Tired as you may be, you toss restlessly through the night and awake in the morning more tired than when you went to bed. Acidity is at the bottom of many a case of sleeplessness as well as acid-indigestion.

Magnesia Oxoids, developed in Germany by a famous pharmaceutical house, correct acidity in the right way. Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent or active oxygen. This stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks intestinal putrefaction and promotes bowel action—all of which are necessary to the true correction of acidity. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids today and take two after each meal. See how much better you feel. If not more than surprised with the results, your money back. Druggists Guarantee the New Vick "Colds-Control" Plan

Backed By Makers of Vicks VapoRub In the Confidence That Plan Will Reduce the Number, Severity and Duration of Colds.

TO CUT COSTS OF COLDS

Here is good news to those who catch cold easily. The makers of Vicks VapoRub—family standby in millions of homes—have developed a Plan for better "Control-of-Colds." It is a practical Plan—workable in every home. And so confident are Vick Chemists that this Plan will reduce the number, severity and duration of colds, that they have authorized every druggist in the United States to make the following guaranteed trial offer:

Your Druggist's Proposition

Get a bottle of the new Vick discovery Vicks Nose & Throat Drops based on a new idea for "preventing" colds. Use it with Vicks VapoRub—the modern way of "treating" colds—as directed below in the Vick Plan. Unless you are delighted with results (a reduction of your "Colds-Tax" in money, loss of time and health)—your druggist is authorized to refund your money.

Here, briefly, is the Vick Plan:

1.—Before a Cold Starts

Watch yourself whenever you have been exposed to anything that you know is apt to give you a cold such as—

Contact with others having fresh colds—crowds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—a night on a Pullman or a dusty automobile ride—sudden changes in temperature—inhaling smoke, dust, gases—excesses in living, such as overeating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance—after a hard day when you are over-tired.

Then—if you feel that stuffy, uneasy irritation of the nasal passages, Nature's usual signal that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose Drops at once—just a few drops up each nostril. Repeat every hour or so if needed. This will prevent many colds by stopping them before they get beyond the nose and throat—where most colds start.

2.—After a Cold Starts

At night, massage the throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub (now available in white "stainless" form, if you prefer). Spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-clothing loose around the neck so that the medicated vapors arising can be inhaled all night long.

If the air-passages are badly clogged with mucus, melt some VapoRub in a bowl of hot water and inhale the steaming vapors for several minutes. (If there is a cough, you will like the new Vicks Cough Drop—actually medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.)

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment, and without the risks of too much internal "dosing," which so often upsets digestion—especially of children. Adv.

When FAT Goes Back Comes Vim

The World Way

The right way for treating obesity is now employed by doctors the world over. It is based on a new discovery —a gland cause.

Modern science finds that a great cause of excess fat lies in a scanty gland secretion. Then food which should be turned to energy simply piles up fat. Thus people grow both fat and lazy through the same gland cause.

Doctors everywhere now feed that lacking factor. They know that abnormal exercise and diet can never bring fat down, and vim back, while that lack exists.

Marmola prescription tablets do what modern doctors do. They feed a like gland, taken from food animals. A famous medical laboratory prepares it to fit the average case.

Marmola has been used for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. Users have told others the results, and the use has spread. Excess fat has been disappearing fast in those years, as everybody knows. It will go faster when more people recognize this right way to reduce.

Go try Marmola. A book in the box gives the formula, and tells why it does what it does. Cease the methods which have failed you. Combat the cause. Do what multitudes are doing with results you see. Go start today.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandru

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will s and your hair will look and fe hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at drug store. Four ounces is all will need, no matter how much druff you may have. This si remedy never fails.

Don't use too-warm water—this fades color. With Lux you use lukewarm water. No hot water needed.

Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens silk threads, fades colors. Lux has no harmful alkali.

Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

Wash this 2-minute way:
1. One teaspoon of Lux makes plenty of suds for each pair of stockings.
2. Add lukewarm water to Lux, squeeze suds through stockings, rinse well.

VETS OPPOSE CUT IN ARMED FORCES

Marion Voiture, 40 et 8, Adopts Resolution Condemning Slashes.

A resolution deploring and condemning any legislation tending to impair the strength of the office, warrant or enlisted personnel of the army, navy, marine corps, national guard, reserve corps or naval reserve other than that now authorized, was adopted last night at a meeting of Marion Voiture, 40 et 8, in the Legion.

The reason for the adoption of the resolution was given as legislation now pending in congress which would among other measures reduce the personnel of the regular army and navy and postpone for a period all training camps for civilians, national guard or reserve corps and the national defense matches.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to Congressman Grant E. Mouser Jr. and Senators Simeon D. Fess and Robert J. Bulkley, members said today. The national department in Washington has also been instructed, they said, to poll the vote in congress on this legislation informing the society how Indiana congressmen and senators vote.

Contained in the resolution were statements that the present enlisted personnel of armd forces in this country is approximately 12,000 men under strength as provided in the latest treaties, and that the now authorized strength of the officer, warrant and enlisted personnel is inadequate for national defense.

The resolution also struck at any attempt to reduce the pay of the officer, warrant and enlisted personnel of American armed forces from that now authorized.

A committee composed of Alfred Deppen, chairman, L. Don Jones and Gene Hill, was instructed to meet sometime this month to plan for the annual family dinner in March at which wives and children of members will be guests. The next meeting will be March 7 at 8 p. m. at the armory.

STATE EXPECTED TO ASK DEATH PENALTY

Wealthy Easterner Faces Fight for Life as Result of Slaying.

By The Associated Press

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 2—Eddie Allen knows today that the state demands his life for the death last November of Francis A. Donaldson, third, the man his sister loved.

District Attorney Stewart Nase has not said so, but the careful questioning by which the jurors were selected dispelled that doubt. Veniremen who admitted prejudices against capital punishment were challenged. Thirty-nine in all were rejected out of 46 examined.

If the 23-year-old society turfman had any doubt as to his debutante sister's attitude, that too, was resolved for him today. Eighteen-old Rose Allen told reporters she never could forget "Skinny," as she called the man Allen shot.

She said she could not enter court until the prosecutor calls her to the witness stand. As for the nature of her testimony—

"I am not helping either side in this case," she declared. "I am going to tell my story the way I know it. I am anxious to testify and get it over with."

Allen is alleged to have slain Donaldson in the Allen apartments, where Donaldson called to attempt a reconciliation.

PLAY CLEARS $365 FOR CHARITY WORK

The City Union, King's Daughters, cleared $365 on the benefit play, "The College Flapper," presented last week at the Marion Steam Shovel gymnasium.

The proceeds will be used by the organization in carrying on its welfare work in the city and also in the maintenance of charity beds in City hospital. Mrs. French Crow, president of the city union, expressed her appreciation of the cooperation and generous response of members of the cast and patrons in the two-day charity project.

WARNS AGAINST SALE OF WATERED OYSTERS

Food Inspector Says All Stores Will Be Watched Closely.

A warning against the sale of watered oysters in Marion was issued to merchants this morning by Dr. J. T. Gruber, milk and food inspector for the city and county.

A careful checkup will be made on stores to make certain that the oysters being sold are not less than 14 per cent total solids, he said.

The practice of "watering" oysters consists of the addition of water to oysters to increase their bulk. The oysters are not damaged by the practice, but the number of oysters in a quart is considerably lessened by the practice.

Dr. Gruber explained that merchants might sell watered oysters innocently when the water had been added before the oysters were placed in their stores, but that in the future the merchants will be held responsible.

CLUES LACKING IN THEATER ROBBERY

Identity of Holdup Man Still Mystery to Police Today.

The identity of the holdup man who staged one of the most daring holdups here in recent years at the Palace theater Sunday night, was as much unknown today, the police said, as when he walked out of the theater with more than $1,100 of the company's receipts.

Lining five employes of the theater, including the manager, J. R. Wheeler, along the wall in the manager's office, the holdup man demanded a sack containing money which had just been brought into the office by the cashier. He forced the manager to open the safe where part of the $1,100 was held. An envelope containing nearly $600 which was lying in one corner of the safe, was overlooked by the robber.

The robbery took place while hundreds of persons crowded the theater.

CONFESSION CLEARS 3 MYSTERY MURDERS

Chicago Mechanic Admits Crimes; Says He Is Dying from Slow Poison.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 2—Police said today they have solved three baffling slayings including one of a woman, through a confession of Paul Harrison, an auto mechanic, who claims he is slowly dying from poison he took to cheat justice and laughs at medical experts trying to save his life.

Harrison, they said, admitted he killed Earl Davis, a garage watchman, and slew Dr. James Schaffer, a dentist, and Miss Norma Newby, 38, who was kidnaped from her escort on a lonely road last March.

The Davis and Schaffer killings were two of a series of four apparently motiveless assaults which mystified authorities.

Before he made the last two alleged confessions, Harrison laughed at physicians who examined him to determine the nature of the poison he says he took.

"You can't give me antidotes because I won't tell you what the poison was," he told them.

"DANCE TEAM" BRINGS DUNN AND EILERS

"Dance Team" which will close Wednesday at the Palace, is a straightforward, well-directed, well-acted story of two young "hoofers" with dreams of dance team success. When, after struggles, the two stars, Sally Eilers and James Dunn, reach the height of their dreams, they almost lose each other in the brilliant dazzle of that success. The picture concerns itself solely with story of their struggles and successes, bringing in only one or two characters as they are needed, to add a poignant moment to the story.

A song short, "Rhythm in the River," a comedy and newsreel are on the bill. H H

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Daily Proverb—"When two men dispute you may be sure there is a fool upon one side or the other, and the man that interferes the biggest fool."

This country is speedily approaching a situation, when the popular morning greeting will be: "Were you held up during the night?"

Will Rogers says the Japanese take another Chinese town for each note sent them by our government. If he's right, Washington should let up on the note-writing business in the cause of humanity.

The gross profits of J. P. Morgan & Company from the sale of foreign bonds in the United States from 1919 to 1932, reported to the senate finance committee, was $10,883,626. There is a lot of money in internationalism—for international bankers.

There is ground for congratulation that the 221 undesirable aliens transported through this city are to be deported, but it's going to take a lot of time to clean up the country of their kind when the job proceeds at the rate of but approximately a hundred a month.

The chauffeur of one of Al. Capone's henchmen has made a confession to the federal authorities in Chicago in which he detailed the bribes paid to policemen and the policemen to whom they were paid. Another light on why crime thrives in Chicago.

Three boys arrested in Lawrence, Massachusetts, charged with stealing, confessed and stated that the money stolen by them had been lost in a gambling machine in the lunch room of the man from whom they stole it. That comes pretty close to showing up the vicious circle.

It is significant that Japan, in recent months, has been the world's largest purchaser of cotton, which is used in the manufacture of high explosives. As Japan has disclaimed any intention of warring on China, we take it that the cotton purchases were made looking to the running down of bandits in Manchuria and China proper.

Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshizawa, a day or two ago, asked the American, British and French ambassadors in Tokio to persuade their governments to pursue measures to persuade the Chinese to abandon warlike operations in Shanghai. The thing is remindful of the story about the fellow who had another down and was beating him up and at the same time yelling: "Take him off, take him off!"

An Outstanding Agreement.

The voluntary concession on the part of railroad labor of a ten per cent. cut in its pay, which will aggregate for the year something like $215,000,000, is one of the most notable actions ever taken in the world of labor. Still, in the light of the course followed by railroad employes since the panic of 1929, the action is not at all surprising. In fact, that railroaders would take such a course, or some similar one, was anticipated.

The manner in which the railroad employes and the railroad managements have stood together during the long period of hard times through which the country has been passing has been a matter for marvel. There has been understanding on both sides, and reason and good feeling have prevailed throughout.

Nothing can better explain the outcome of the seventeen days of negotiation, which, in the spirit displayed, have been without precedent in railroad history, than the statements issued by the spokesmen of the workers and the managements.

"In the hope that our action," said David Brown Robertson, representing railroad labor, "may improve the health of our industry, may improve the relations of management and employes, may stimulate a revival of business and may advance the general welfare, we have decided to accept the proposal."

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and head of the negotiating rail committee, replied:

"With you we indulge in the hope that the results of this conference may tend to improve relations between railway management and employes, and also tend to stimulate the revival of business and promote the general welfare."

It was in this spirit that railroad labor agreed to the cutting of $215,000,000 from its pay for the year and it was in this spirit that the workers were given the assurance of the managements that they would do all conditions would justify to use the saving in operating costs thus effected toward relieving distress among 700,000 railroad jobless and 600,000 more only partly employed.

The agreement thus reached Monday looms as the most outstanding attitude of consideration and fairness ever manifested in the history of railroading, if not in all labor-management history.

Two News Stories of Cheer.

Two news stories carrying decided cheer were published in Monday's issue of the Star. One of them was to the effect that Receiver Charles D. Schaffner, of the Citizens' Building and Loan company, had begun the distribution of $100,000 among the depositors of that corporation, and the other was to the effect that the Marion Steam Shovel company had received an order for an electric shovel of such size as to make it a notable machine of its kind.

While the cost to the Kansas coal company giving the order has not been made public, the disclosure that the shovel will weigh approximately 1,000 tons, have a ninety-five-foot boom, an eighteen-cubic-yard dipper, will require from thirty to thirty-five cars to transport it and that its construction will consume practically three months after the plans and patterns for it have been completed, makes evident to those familiar with the cost of an ordinary steam shovel that the amount involved is also notable. It is a matter for pride on the part of the city that the well-deserved reputation for excellence held by one of its products should bring such an order to Marion. There is, also, ground for felicitation on any order which will give employment to a considerable number of men for three months, even though the period of that employment be three months in the future.

And there is ground for congratulation, too, not only over the $100,000 distribution being made by Receiver Schaffner, but also over the manner in which the banks have cooperated and are cooperating in making the distribution possible in the way announced by him.

It is tax-paying time, and doubtless some of the money distributed will be applied to taxes. Some of it may go for living necessities. It is a time when prices are right for exceptional bargains, and some of it may be thus expended. No doubt some of it will go to augment existing accounts in banks, and some to open new ones on which to draw from time to time. But the outstanding benefit will accrue from the psychological effect.

The sum of $100,000 is not a large one in the general scheme of things in a land in which people think and speak in billions, but it is a decidedly appreciable amount in a city of the size of our own, and its distribution under the circumstances can hardly have other than a good effect on the public feeling. It will have a tendency to cause citizens who have had their means tied up to revert to a more nearly normal way of thinking and, consequently, of living; it will have a tendency to cause them to get away from the attitude which, more than any other thing, has prolonged the period of hard times which the country, together with practically all the world, has been experiencing for almost thirty months. If this is the effect, and there is no reason why it should not be, the benefit will be far and away beyond the direct result of releasing to depositors in the building and loan in question $100,000 of their funds which have been tied up

Hardly had the news of the assault of the Japanese forces in Shanghai been cabled over the world till the yen and the bonds of Nippon began to fall. No country can take such ruthless action as that of the Japanese in China's commercial center and maintain its credit in the financial markets of the world.

U. S. Steel's Compromise Dividend.

The United States Steel corporation, the world's largest steel-making enterprise, turned out a surprise for stockholders and speculators last week in its fifty-cent quarterly dividend declaration. Most of them had expected one of two things: omission of the quarterly distribution or maintenance, as of yore. The declaration was accompanied by a significant announcement that "continuance of dividends must depend upon improvements in the corporation's volume of business and earnings." There will be no more dips into surplus to protect capital from feeling the full effect of depression's impact on United States Steel corporation.

This policy is consistent with the corporation's action last summer in cutting wages, though it is to be noticed by labor that its earning decrease from the wage cut directly was only one-fifth of capital's decrease from the last previous dividend of one dollar.

Declaration of a fifty-cent quarterly dividend does not place the corporation definitely on a two-dollar basis. The action is more safely interpreted for purposes of present understanding as a compromise, with a suggestion of hope that improvement in the general situation is not far off. The United States Steel corporation, like a great many other business organizations, is marking time waiting for the break that must inevitably come.

From Washington comes a story to the effect that the President has lost twenty-seven pounds in weight since he entered the White House, having dropped from 210 to 183. No occasion for worry on that point. He could still take off ten or fifteen pounds more without being under weight.

The softest government job in Washington is said to be that of a young woman who draws somewhere between $1,080 and $1,380 dollars a year for operating the private elevator, to the offices of Secretary Robert P. Lamont in the new Department of Commerce building, which is used only by the secretary or some one holding an order from him. Just another slant on the bureaucratic system!

Arrested near Uniontown, Pennsylvania, a young woman confessed that she was a cattle rustler and had been stealing and butchering cattle for several months. There doesn't seem to be any occupation, legal or illegal, into which the girls of today do not show an inclination to break.

Exonerated at the coroner's inquest on her plea of self-defense, a woman of Chicago has been held in the felony court there on a charge of second-degree murder for stabbing and killing her husband during a quarrel. She never should have resorted to the use of a knife. Any departure from the established rule of shooting them in the back in self-defense is risky.

SPURRED TO ACTION.

Editorial Opinion.

AMERICA AT SHANGHAI.

The degree of American responsibility for the maintenance of order at Shanghai has been definitely indicated in Secretary Stimson's statement, issued yesterday. As a result of exchanges between this government and that of Great Britain the United States has notified Japan that "there should be no military occupation" of the International settlement by Japan "unless the municipal force became clearly inadequate to protect life and property." Japan has answered in assurance that "the international rights and interests in Shanghai will not be interfered with." Great Britain has made the same "suggestions" to Japan. Both the United States and Great Britain have laid the same proposition before France and Italy. "No other proposals for international action," says the Secretary of State, "have been made by the American government."

On this basis there is no occasion for apprehension on the score of American intervention in the situation in China. The sole concern of the United States relates to the preservation of its interests as compassed by the bounds of the International settlement. If Japan respects those interests, no matter how far it may go in the direction of conflict with China beyond those bounds, there can be no occasion for action by this government, whether singly or in conjunction with Great Britain or the other powers which participate in the maintenance of the International settlement.

Today's news from the Far East indicates the possibility, indeed the probability, of conflict. Chiang KaiShek, former president of China and now virtually at the head of the Nanking government, has called upon all the factions to unite in war with Japan. Start has been made toward the assemblage of a large armed force for that purpose. It is stated at Tokio that Japan is considering the formation of an expeditionary army, to be sent to Shanghai, a decision to be made within twenty-four hours. Some hesitatibn is indicated on the part of the general staff of Japan, which appears to have gained the control of government at Tokio. Reluctance is manifest lest large-scale military operations may involve the risk of international complications.

The League of Nations council discusses ways and means of intervention. Steps are contemplated leading to the creation of an international commission to examine the situation at Shanghai and report immediately to the council. Meanwhile the situation develops rapidly, perhaps too speedily to allow any effective measures to be adopted. It is evident that the machinery of the League is cumbersome and, in a crisis such as this, inefficient for an emergency. It was likewise evident in the Manchurian affair, which was permitted to progress to the point of actual accomplishment of Japan's purpose to occupy the provinces while debates proceeded at Geneva.

The United States is not a member of the League. It can not be involved in any collective action in China in the name of the League. It has gone quite as far as it can go, and, indeed, as far as it should go, in effecting an agreement with Great Britain to ask Japan—not to demand, for to demand means to be prepared for compulsion in the event of refusal—to respect the international rights at Shanghai.

As for the menace of an outbreak of hostilities between Japan and Russia in northern Manchuria, involved in the proposed seizure of the Chinese Eastern railroad for troop movements, there seems to be little danger. Russia states that it will agree to such a use of the line if China, its partner in the ownership of the road, assents. If Japan, assuming China's dissent, proceeds to use the line, Russia will in all likelihood not interpose more than formal protest. There is no disposition on the part of Russia to engage just now in a conflict which would require the shifting into Asia of a large portion of its army, the presence of which in European Russia is essential to the maintenance of the existing order.—Washington Star, January 30.

Dangerous To Neglect Nose Bleeding.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Nose bleed is a daily occurrence in the lives of many children. Its importance and meaning are often overlooked If it persists it may be a stumbling block to good health and normal development.

If a nose-bleed occurs while the child is asleep, the mother becomes alarmed. When she enters the child's room and notices the pillow stained, her first impulse is to awaken the child. The child becomes unduly frightened.

A common cause of nose bleed in children is a localized inflammation of the nose. The child frequently touches this inflammation and this results in a chronic sore. The spot may become inflamed and infected.

Nasal polypi are often associated with nose bleeds. Nasal polypi are small growths in the nose. They should be removed, because, in addition to causing bleeding, their presence interferes with normal breathing.

Any deformity in the nose, particularly a deviated nasal septum, may have nose bleed as a frequent symptom.

There are certain blood conditions which may be the cause of nose bleeds. A blood test is the only accurate method of determining these conditions.

Although nose bleeds are most common in childhood, adults frequently suffer from them. The causes may be the same as in children High blood pressure is one cause of nose bleed found only in adults.

Contrary to the common belief, nose bleed in an individual with high blood pressure is really a fortunate occurrence. It is a safety measure provided by nature. Many individuals suffer from high blood pressure. They do not realize they have this condition and neglect it. When they have a nose bleed it means that as a result of excessive pressure on the arteries bleeding occurs at the weakest point in the body. It is fortunate that this is in the nose where the bleeding is not serious. If it happened anywhere else in the body, particularly in the brain, it would indeed be serious. When it occurs in the brain we have a condition known as "cerebral hemorrhage" or "stroke."

The chronic sufferer from nose bleeds should have a thorough physical examination. The nose and throat should be carefully examined. The blood pressure should be taken and an urinalysis should be included.

When a nose bleed occurs keep cool. Excitement and unnecessary activity serve to stimulate the bleeding rather than to stop it.

It is best that the patient be placed in a reclining position with the head at a lower level than the body to keep the blood from running into the lungs. Often the bleeding may be successfully controlled by applying ice to the nose. It may be necessary to place cotton packings in the nose. If the bleeding does not stop, call a physician.

The River Jordan.

BY TEMPLE MANNING

Tourists who visit the River Jordan each year to see the traditional spot where Jesus was baptized never cease marveling at the fact that in 2,000 years no Christian organization has seen fit to mark the spot. Not a single stone has been set up to commemorate this holy spot, although countless fortunes have been spent commemorating other great events in the world history.

About a dozen wretchedly poor people live in the neighborhood of this particular place. They eke out their existence by fishing in the river and hunting hyenas and wild boars. They also add some little income for their support by selling to tourists lemonade and bottles of water taken from the river.

For 160 miles the Jordan flows through a barren country. The curious part of this is that the banks are exceptionally fertile and lined with great trees and shrubbery. The river flows so quickly that a great deal of mud from its banks is constantly being carried along with it.

Pilgrims to the celebrated stream are always interested to find the "reed shaken by the wind," which Jesus talked about as a remarkably decorative feature to be found along the river's sides. The "Crown of Thorns" is believed to have been made of thorns plucked from the banks of the Jordan and similar thorns can be found there today.

Following the stream to the Dead sea we come to the area so often mentioned in the Bible. Here, too, is the "wilderness," where John the Baptist is said to have wandered. Although this territory has today few inhabitants, historians tell us that many cities flourished on the banks of the Dead sea in the days of antiquity.

The heat of this deeply-depressed district is terrific. Everybody who goes there wonders if the water is so amazingly buoyant as reported. It is and also so salty that only the cod fish can live in its depths.

Going past the monastery of John the Baptist we arrive at modern Jericho. Once there were three mighty cities of that name, but now only one can be found, and this is a wretched settlement of mud huts The people of this city seem afflicted with every imaginable sort of illness.

Standing on a street one wonders where is the glorious city erected by Herod and where the famous fertile plain.

Lyman Beecher at Cincinnati.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

Dr. Lyman Beecher, father of Henry Ward Beecher, the great Brooklyn preacher, and the scarcely less renowned Harriett Beecher Stowe, was living in Cincinnati and was the head of Lane seminary at the time of the pro-slavery rioting which resulted in the attack upon the office of the Philanthropist, which was advocating abolition, and the destruction of the plant and office of that publication, and he openly took the side of the abolitionists.

This brought the enmity of the pro-slavery element in Cincinnati, then very large, upon him and his institution, and no doubt the seminary would have been attacked at the same time, if it had not stood so far out from what was then the downtown section of Cincinnati. A stretch of three miles of unpaved road lay between, and at the time of the rioting, it was ankle deep with sticky clay mud.

Dr. Beecher had anticipated the attack and, speaking of the matter afterward, he said he had advised "the boys"—meaning the theological students in the seminary—that they had the right to defend themselves. Apparently they were prepared to do so, for Dr. Beecher added that he had hoped that no one would be killed and that he had cautioned the students to aim low and hit them in the feet and legs.

Dr Beecher was short in stature, something like the figure of his noted preacher son, with a florid face and fatherly expression. He cared little for the conventions, either as to dress or manners, and was absent mannered to a degree. He was a widower at the time and his daughter, Harriett, was the head of his household It was while living in Cincinnati that the daughter procured incidents and staging for use in her "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

SYNOPSIS

Dick Dale, ski-jumper extraordinary, attracts the first real interest of Hope Ross' life while she is in the midst of giving a house party at Lake Placid. Hope, slim in green leather coat, with her gold hair bright under a green hat, as quickly catches Dick's attention. Hours of riding and ice-fishing and talking result in the highest honor of a high school girl's life—an invitation from Dickey to the Harmouth prom. She already has carried off the social honors at home; she is leader of her crowd; renowned as the prettiest and richest girl in town, and is easily the most popular. Her popularity, in fact, reduces school work to a minimum, worries her mother by its incessant progress and drives her sister Goody sullen with jealousy. Hope's father spoils her, but does not carry this to the extent of admitting the social equality of Dickey's father.

* * *

CHAPTER EIGHT

Signing a Pledge

AND wouldn't she just be in town for a matinee—and almost miss it?

If she hadn't phoned home about staying in to dinner, she would have missed it! For when she phoned, her mother explained that a young tramp, arriving in a wheezing car and a rather scrubby raccoon coat, had been sitting in the living-room all afternoon, refusing politely to move. His name, said Mama Ross, was Dickey Dale, and he had driven all the way down from Harmouth to see Hope!

An hour later, Dickey met Hope in town. During which hour Hope had successfully dodged her sweet Rusty Crandall, tricking him unmercifully into taking her up to see a sick girl-friend! Poor old Rusty—who knew in his heart that Hope was playing him mean. Who was probably phoning her mother right now, and learning all about Dickey. Oh well, you could always make up with Rusty. He adored her so. Loved her with such a clean, approved and uninteresting love. And whenever she ditched him, Rusty would find comfort in Angel, and Angel would be sublimely happy until Hope took it into her head to need Rusty again. Whereupon Angel would be quite forgotten, and Rusty's parents would draw a breath of relief, and Angel's eyes would grow sorrowful as she would wait quietly, patiently, for Rusty to remember her again. . . .

But what did any of that matter? The point was that Dickey met Hope in town, and they both made a large evening of it. Dinner. Theater. And a visit to his father's afterward, where Hope found several ladies and gentlemen of the ensemble, one casting expert, and a playwright.

Dickey drove her home in his rattletrap of a roadster—the kind that made you stretch full length on the floor, almost as if you were an invalid on a wheeling table. A brutal, springless, open car, rebuilt within an inch of its carburetor.

Dickey stayed in New York with his father, but at 11 the next morning he was back at Hope's doorstep. Refusing to go to the damned old tea she was slated for. Instead they went out into the country. Ate at Briarcliff Lodge, and tramped all over the grounds. Met Hickey with his leading woman up there, and trailed Hickey's car back into town, where they were taken to a night club as was a night club—with Hickey the gayest and noblest of the lot!

Such a week-end. Such a man was this Dickey! Such a riot with Dad over the late hours, and such a sermon about sticking to her own crowd!

But Hope didn't hear! Hope was a dead goner. Doped with love!

It was easier now to wait for the prom. Easier because she knew that Dickey cared. Cared, as he put it, like hell. That was the only way Dickey would care for a girl—the only way any girl wanted to be cared for. What if he was a bit brusk and unreasonable? Hope was sick of boys—like Rusty Crandall—who gave in to all her whims, and ran her errands for her gratefully. Sick to death of them.

The rest of the season spun around in a dizzy whirl. Mama Ross wrenched her attention from the happiness of her elder daughter long enough to complain and forbid and foretell catastrophe for Hope. Papa Ross talked to his daughter, long and seriously. A good-looking, amusing young athlete, this Dickey Dale. Good enough stock, yes, but hardly a family for his little daughter to consider as a serious connection. Rusty Crandall, now—who, by the way, was being treated shamefully....

Hope emerged from these interviews with her small mouth set in a determined and angry line. Dickey's folks not good enough! All the folks he had was his father!

And of all the men Hope had ever met, J. Hickson Dale got her highest bid....

Next, of course, to Dickey—and to her own father....

We can be too busy to think. Sometimes we can make a point of being too busy to think. The prom was an undertaking. Both for preparation and recuperation. Then Easter vacation, with Dickey right in New York! The night of one of Hickey's huge musical comedy openings, when she and Dickey sat in the front row, and went backstage after, and partied with Hickey and the star after that.

The college show came next—which Dickey had written—along with a collaborator, who was seldom considered sufficiently important to be invited around. And only by the fact that Betty Preston and Pat Hollins were going to Harmouth too, was Hope able to convince Mama and Papa that all would be well if they permitted her to go—and they'd sadly regret it if they withheld permission. Finally she won, as she knew very well she would win.

Many times Dickey made the heart-rending journey from Harmouth down to Westchester for a week-end. Driving all night—arriving tired, stiff in the shoulders, and none the worse for eating some 20 or 30 sandwiches he drove with one hand; or stopping long enough to take a swig of coffee out of his thermos.

Though she never mentioned it to either side, Hope's eyes blistered with wrath that her folks never offered actual hospitality to Dickey on these sojourns. Why, she demanded of herself, when so many of the boys and girls were cheerfully told to pick a room and bunk up? It seemed so pointed, so rude, never to ask Dickey to stay overnight. Always he had either to go into New York to his father, or put up in the town's "boarding-room" hotel. She knew Dickey noticed it; and it seemed to her as if he grinned more ingratiatingly each time, was more and more courteous to her people, as if to put them at ease as far as he was concerned.

Once she protested against his long drives down. She could see how it was worrying him....She protested, relying on his refusal to take her seriously—knowing she'd curl up and waste away if he stopped his visit.

He could always be relied upon. "Your ideas are utterly nit-wit," he growled. "Sometimes you talk just to hear how you sound. Do you want me to flunk the year?"

"Oh so, Dickey——"

"I get the doldrums if I don't come down to see you, little cricket."

She smiled, her eyes down. Not daring to show how they would look. With other boys she could boss and wisecrack—she could almost understand now why Goody was so goofy when Charlie was around . . . .

"Will you marry me, cricket?"

That was easier. She could both laugh and look up.

"Sure!"

"Are you mine, cricket?"

"F. O. B."

"You aren't dazzling me?"

"Huh! I'll marry you if you won't muss my hair like that."

Silence was pleasant.

"Well I won't last long," said Dickey with a sudden fervor. "Either you marry me or I'll go nuts. I'll be a blithering idiot. Old Hickey would hate me to be a blithering idiot."

"So would I, for that matter," she agreed amiably.

He sat beside her, seriously taking her hand in his.

"Will you sign your name to it?"

"What do you mean, crazy?"

"Sign here, a pledge," he thrust out a notebook, the top half of a page covered with his handkerchief. "Sign it, cricket, will you—so I can sue for breach of promise if you don't make good."

She laugher, with a delicious intake of breath—her mind wheeling—took his fountain-pen and wrote with a flourish Hope Fairfield Ross. Then suddenly serious at his strange look as he folded up the book, she frowned at him, puzzled.

"I'll wear it next to my heart," he said. "Want my signature, cricket? Or can you wear it against your heart?"

She laugher again, and let him kiss her. Laughed some more, and then kissed him, only to jump up like a guilty child as Mama Ross came into the room.

To Be Continued.

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Dicky's Boyish and Obvious Effort to Curb His Jealousy Brings a Thrill of Happiness to Madge.

I DID Dicky the justice of realizing that he was trying hard to conquer the jealous resentment against Hugh Grantland which seized him at almost every reference to the imminent arrival of our guests. And when the bungalow was all "swept and garnished" for the reception of the visitors, and their supper all ready for the "heating up" process that Lillian had recommended, I went to my room for the five minutes' rest and quiet that my nerves were imperatively demanding. There came a flash of understanding to me which cleared up something that had puzzled me—the prompt gibing and horseplay from Harry Underwood that had inevitably accompanied any sign of outbreak upon Dicky's part.

Trying to Be "Good"

Dicky had asked his old friend thus to check him when his temper threatened to get the better of him. I knew it as well as if I had heard the colloquy between the two men arranging it. They were upon such terms of friendship "passing the love of brothers" that either could ask anything of the other without hesitancy or sensitiveness. To no one else in the world save Lillian and me would Dicky have acknowledged his jealousy of Hugh Grantland. But I do not think either man has any secret from the other, and I could visualize the humorous frankness with which Dicky had confided to his big friend his inability to keep from caustic comments upon the guests for whom we were making such elaborate preparations.

Any wife will realize the tenderness with which I laughed quietly to myself as this illuminative knowledge came to me. He was trying so hard to be good! I felt in that moment as I might toward Junior in his boyish efforts to overcome some fault that he knows will grieve me.

I rose from the couch upon which I had thrown myself, my fatigue miraculously gone, so potent had been the discovery that Dicky was taking such strenuous measures to insure a peaceful visit upon the part of Hugh Grantland and Lee Chow. As I rearranged my hair and my dress, both a bit disheveled from my labors in the bungalow, I resolved that I would guard my tongue rigorously during Hugh Grantland's visit, guard my face and eyes as well, that Dicky might have no slightest chance to cavil at what he might consider too warm a welcome to the man whose coming I knew he secretly dreaded with a deeper than ordinary jealous resentment.

Dicky's Confession

Dicky never had surprised me more than when earlier in the Summer he had confessed to me the fear of Hugh Grantland's winning my love from him, that always had been his. He had told me that his apparent rancor against Philip Veritzen and Allen Drake with both of whom I had been closely associated in professional work, had been only on the surface, born of his natural jealousy of seeing me admired by other men, and that he had had no real fear that I ever would become seriously interested in either man. But he had recounted Hugh Grantland's long and selfless devotion to me, had declared that Hugh surpassed him upon every count, and wound up with the broken paraphrasing, "He's a better man than I am Gungha Din," in a shaken voice that had made me clasp him close in a tempestous embrace the while I assured him that Hugh Grantland nor any other man save himself had ever won my love. Yet even in that moment of exaltation, though I knew that I had spoken the truth, one of the things he had said had echoed warningly in my ears.

"You never had any feeling save admiration and friendly comradeship for either Drake or Veritzen"—this was his speech in effect—"but you have come nearer to loving Hugh Grantland than you know. If you had not been married to me you would have fallen for him, and what's eating me is that you may yet come to realize how infinitely better a husband he would be than I have been."

His last statement I never would acknowledge, even in the most secret hiding place of my heart, but the other—that if I had not known Dicky I would have fallen in love with Hugh Grantland—that I could not gainsay—honestly. I knew also and knew that Lillian had guessed my feeling—that upon one or two occasions when Dicky has signally failed me, and when I had been most miserable in consequence, the thought of Hugh's unfailing tender devotion, asking nothing but to serve me, had been dangerously comforting.

But that was all past now, and I knew "beyond all doubting, truly," where my heart's happiness lay. With a sudden impulse, I went to the speaking tube that connects my room with the kitchen, and called Katie, still at work upon preparations for the guests.

"Will you ask Mr. Graham to come up to my room a minute, please?" I asked.

"Yah! I tell heem qveeck," Katie called back, and I waited tremulously, dreading, yet longing for my husband's presence until his knock sounded upon the door.

Harding To Entertain Improved Bucyrus Team Friday

PRESIDENTS GIVEN REST MONDAY; WILL RESUME WORK TODAY

Mansfield Invades Galion To Start Second Round; Shelby at Ashland.

Having completed the first round of competition in the North Central Ohio league with a record of three victories and a pair of losses, Harding High school will start out Friday to make a second tour of the circuit in the hope of being able to batter its way into the highest position of the league standings.

Mansfield right now is serenely reposing in the top post but how long the Tygers will be able to hold the lofty perch is open for question. The fact they have finished the first round on top, while undoubtedly a big help, does not give them the slightest claim to being the best team in the league. There are three other teams yelping at the heels of the Bengals and the slightest letdown on the part of the leaders will result in their being jolted from the pinnacle.

Harding at Home

Harding High school's Presidents will entertain Bucyrus this week on the Steam Shovel court and in doing so will meet a team of Redmen vastly improved over the one which was met in the opening game of the season. Harding had no more than average difficulty in disposing of Bucyrus in the season's opener on Jan. 1 but since that time Bucyrus has shown sufficient improvement to step out and hand Ashland a 20-18 beating and Ashland does not have a team that rates as a pushover for anyone.

A second conflict this week will see Mansfield's Tygers invading the home court of the Galion Orangemen for a game that is likely to turn into another of those hair-raisers which have become almost a habit in N. C. O. competition this season.

In the third and final game of the week Ashland will remain at home in an effort to put the skids under Shelby and ease the Whippets out of the three-way tie for second place. Ashland turned back the Shelby five in the first round game 30-27 but only after a bitter battle.

Presidents Rest

Because several members of the Harding squad are suffering from colds, Coach D. N. Bohyer yesterday excused the entire squad from practice. He will call them together this afternoon on the Shovel gym court to commence preparations for the clash with Bucyrus.

Aside from the colds which are bothering various players the Presidents are apparently in better shape than at any time in the last two weeks. Billie Hero's ailing leg is rapidly rounding into form and Fred Vestal's injured foot is in fairly good shape.

The Bastrop, Tex., high school football team, in its last three games clinching the regional title, used the same lineup without a single substitution.

Yank Purchase

JESS HILL

Here is the Yankees' new outfielder, Jess Hill, whose purchase from Hollywood of the Pacific coast league, has been announced. Jess is a former all-around athlete of the University of Southern California. He hit .320 last season. Hill will report to the Yanks at St. Petersburg, Fla., next month.

METHODIST CLASH WITH PRESBYTERIANS TOPS CHURCH SKED

Dethroned Champs Hope To Knock Leaders from Top Tonight at Y.

The efforts of the Epworth M. E Sunday school basketball team to continue on top of the standings in the campaign for the city church championship, will get another severe test tonight as the Methodists collide with the First Presbyterians in the sandwich contest of the regular three-game Tuesday night program on the Y. M. C. A. court.

At present the Methodists are riding the crest of the wave in the circuit with a record of six victories and no defeats, leading the Central Christians and Calvary Evangelical, the nearest competittors, by one full game.

Presbies Lose Out

The Presbyterians, champions of the league last year but apparently dethroned this season, are not the strongest combination in the circuit but with full strength available, will be fully capable of forcing the Methodists the limit. On paper Epworth figures to win but upsets have been coming frequently of late and a Presbyterian victory tonight is not by any means in the realm of the impossible.

Starting off the three-game program will be a clash between Trinity Baptist and Central Christians. The Baptists will be fighting to get above the 500 per cent mark for the season while the Christians are battling to retain their position within striking range of the top post. If the Christians are up to their usual form the Baptists will probably take the fourth beating in seven starts but a slight letdown will probably enable Trinity to climb into the first division.

Lower Teams Meet

Closing the three-way bill will be a conflict between two teams which have been either at or near the bottom of the standings all season, Lee Street Presbyterians and United Brethren. The latter team has not won a game in six starts and hardly figures to crash the win column against Lee Street. The Presbyterian five has not had much success as yet but has always played a fighting brand of basketball and should be able to increase their percentage mark against the Brethren five.

The first gme will get under way at 7:15 with the others following at 45 minute intervals.

REISELT LAUNCHES DRIVE FOR CROWN

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 2—Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, one of the world's best three-cushion billiard players for years, tonight starts his big drive for the 1932 championship.

The Philadelphia veterans, leading with six victories and one defeat, will meet Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., and Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago, Gus Copulos, Eugene, Ore., and young Jake Schaefer of San Francisco, all tough opponents.

Layton last night helped Reiselt by virtually eliminating Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, defending champion, 50 to 40, in 74 innings. Scoreless for 13 innings, Layton hit his stride and rapidly overhauled Thurnblad. Schaefer pulled himself out of a slump and played brilliantly to defeat Allen Hall of Chicago, 50 to 46 in 59 innings. The victory was Schaefer's fourth in eight matches, and Hall suffered his sixth defeat in ten starts.

Gov. James Rolph of California dresses in mourning whenever a man is hung in his state.

An Old Story—Culbertson Tops N.C.O. Point List

Unless someone is found who can stop the scoring exploits of Gus Culbertson, the Shelby forward bids fair to make the race for individual scoring honors in the North Central Ohio league little less than a run-away. Culbertson racked up another six points against Galion last Friday night to boost his total for the first half of the race to 54, this number being just 15 points better than the 39 total of his closest rival, Steele of Bucyrus.

By scoring six points against Mansfield Saturday night, Jack Ling, Harding pivot man, boosted himself into a tie with Carol Caris for eighth place in the standings with a total of 23 markers. Caris, however has not played in the last two games. Harding now has nine players represented in the scoring column.

Should Culbertson continue his break-neck scoring pace through the second half of the season, he will record a higher season total than the one turned in by Ed. Hoekstra of Galion, the high scorer last season. Hoekstra tossed in 90 points to top the 1931 scoring column.

MARION WILL AGAIN BE HOST TO CENTRAL OHIO CAGE TOURNEY

March 24, 25, 26 Named for Independent Competition on Star Court.

The second annual battle for the independent amateur basketball championship of North Central Ohio will be staged on the court of The Star auditorium on March 24, 25 and 26, it has been announced by Hugh Shults of Marion, promoter of the tournament.

Rules for competition in the tourney, which last season drew an entry list of 28 quintets, will be almost the same this season as last. Some few players who competed last year will be barred from competition this season. Entry blanks will be mailed to all teams which played last season and a large number of those combines have already signified their intentions of entering again this year.

Awards the Same

The awards for the tourney this year will be almost the same as last, although the total number of awards will probably be higher.

The tournament, staged for the first time last season, drew some of the classiest court teams in central Ohio to the Marion floor. The tournament championship was won by the Phi Psi fraternity team of Ohio Wesleyan university with a lineup composed for the most part of Ohio Wesleyan varsity players Ginavin and Duncan, both stars of the Wesleyan quintet this season, competed here with the Phi Psi team.

Other leading teams of the tournament last year, not including those from Marion and the area surrounding it, were the Niles Kreegers of Niles, Ohio, Wile's Collegians of Columbus, Parkinson Plumbers of Mansfield, Kibler Clothiers of Mansfield, Blayney Buicks of Mt. Gilead and Barberton Moose of Barberton, O.

Entry Limit 32

Topping the list of local entries in the 1931 tournament were the Shovel Y-Indus club of Marion and the Green Camp Baptists of Green Camp. The Baptist team went to the semi-final round before being eliminated by the Phi Psi quintet.

The limit on teams for the tourney this year has been placed at 32 by the management. The entry deadline has not been announced

BANKS TEAM WINS FIRST RIFLE SHOOT

In the first shoot held by the newly organized Marion Rifle association the team captained by E. S. Banks turned in a victory over the team captained by J. M. Martin.

Martin was high scorer for the two teams with a score of 178. Banks placed high for his team with 170. Lake was second high scorer for the losing team with 164 and William E. Marks was second on the winning combine with 158.

The shoot was held on the police station range.

The club is open for new members and interested individuals are asked to be at the police station on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. when the next shoot will be held.

MILLER WILL PRESS DEMAND FOR CROWN LOST BY BATTALINO

Cincinnati Fighter Insists He Has Legitimate Claim to Title.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 2—The featherweight crown that Christopher ("Bat") Battalino of Hartford, Conn., outgrew and tossed away in a recent "no-contest" bout here with Freddie Miller, Cincinnati challenger, was claimed by Miller today.

He has placed his plea before Peter Horbach, secretary of the Ohio boxing association. The Cincinnati southpaw said he intended to present his case to General John V. Clinnin, president of the National Boxing association within a few days. The title was vacated after the bout.

"I do not intend to abandon what I consider my right," Miller said. "I was exonerated by the Cincinnati boxing commission but penalized nevertheless."

Bat was fined $5,000 and suspended indefinitely, the customers given back their money and Miller allowed $250 for training expenses.

Miller bases his claim on the action of Referee Lou Bauman, in declaring the bout "no contest." He said if Bauman thought Battalino was stalling the Hartford fighter should have been disqualified and Miller awarded the crown.

"The rules are with Miller," Horbach said. "His claim merits careful consideration. While the fight was one of the worst I ever have seen I do not think it is right to burn this boy at the stake to appease the public."

HUNGARIAN CHAMP ENTERS U. S. EVENTS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 2—Hungary's triple running champion, Ladislas Barsi, is in town ready to give this country's leading middle distance stars some new competition.

Barsi will start in the Millrose A. A. games Saturday night and wind up his flying visit in the National A. A. U. championships, Feb. 22.

Barsi has been listed to compete in the half-mile in the Millrose games, but he said upon his arrival yesterday that he may switch to the 600-yard event.

The Hungarian, holder of his country's 400, 800 and 1,500 meter championships, said practice had convinced him he could make a better showing at distance under the half mile indoors.

STOCK SHARES DRIFT LOWER

Bear Board" Deserts Market as Big Board Turns Downward.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 2—Bullish influence a "war boom," which was discredited in leading quarters from the start, and from the stock market itself prices drifted quietly downward.

The market was firm for a time, but soon turned reactionary, with a heavy tone spread throughout the list. Early gains of from one point to four or more were replaced by losses of one to four or more. Trading, however, was dull.

Almost all of the upturn of the previous session. Santa Fe declined more than four, Union Pacific and other issues off a point or more included Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and New York Central. Coppers turned heavy as the export price was cut. Miscellaneous issues off a point or so included U. S. Steel, Dupont, Allied Chemical, General Electric, United Aircraft, American Can, Case, American Smelting, Cerro De Pasco and Westinghouse. American Telephone lost two. Marshall Field sagged a point on ommission of the dividend.

Heaviness of the rails, which cancelled much of the upturn which greeted the 10 per cent wage cut agreement, reflected opinion that while the railroads position has been greatly strengthened, prosperous times must await revival of freight movement.

Some important banking quarters regarded inauguration of the Reconstruction finance Corp as distinctly favorable and felt the gradual return of stability may now be expected. They were more inclined to look for signs of it in the bond market than in stocks for the present, however, indicating that dividend uncertainties may prevail for some months

GRAIN PRICES GET SETBACK

Downturns at Liverpool, Lack of Cold Damage, Cause Decline.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 2—Grain prices here averaged lower early today, influenced by setbacks in Liverpool wheat quotations and by indications that the recent cold wave did relatively little damage. Liverpool reported wheat demand insufficient to sustain advances, opening at ⅛ to ¼ up. Chicago wheat futures afterward underwent a sag all around and then rallied. Corn started ⅛@¼ down and subsequently turned upward.

Wheat traders kept a watchful eye on war developments, but most of the time appeared to be disposed to await definite evidence that other powers than China and Japan were becoming directly involved. On the other hand, concerted moves for peace and little or no immediate market influence. Bears derived some advantage from estimates that stocks of wheat in the United States totaled 200,000,000 bushels on farms, 205,000,000 bushels in the visible supply, and 255,000,000 bushels elsewhere. Corn and oats traders took their cue chiefly from wheat, but ment forecast pointed to an imnoted that the Argentine governportant decrease of corn yield.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on the 26th day of January, 1932, The Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church of Marion, Ohio, a religious society incorporated under the laws of Ohio, through its trustees filed its petition in the Common Pleas Court of Marion County, Ohio, being Cause No. 22166, praying for authority from the said court to encumber the following described real estate belonging to said church:

Situated in the County of Marion, in the State of Ohio and in the City of Marion and bounded and described as follows.

Being the south half of Lot Number One Thousand Seventy-one (1071) in Wallace and Truax Fourth Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio.

Said authority is asked for the reason that the trustees of said church desire to borrow Six Hundred and no-100 Dollars ($600.00) to take care of current expenses and carry on the work of the church A former loan of Two Thousand and no-100 Dollars ($2,000.00) was made by Marion Presbytery to said church without security, with an agreement that it was to be later secured, but no security was given by said church. Said trustees now desire to encumber said real estate in the amount of Two Thousand Six Hundred and no-100 Dollars ($2,600.00) to acquire the $600.00 now desired and the former loan of $2,000.00.

Said application will be for hearing on and after the 27th day of February, 1932.

Buys More Than Any Dollar You Spend!

THOUSANDS of gas bills for every-day domestic use prove that:

Gas costs only one-quarter of a cent per meal per person for cooking — based on a 75-cent rate.

If gas cost as much as $2.00 per thousand cubic feet, it would be the most economical fuel for cooking, and even at a rate of $1.25 per thousand cubic feet it would heat water for domestic use at the lowest cost.

At a rate of 75 cents, the gas used to heat water for 10 baths would not cost as much as one bar of soap.

If the gas rate were 75 cents, you could heat a good-sized living room all day with a gas radiant heater for the price of a package of cigarettes.

Gas at 75 cents will heat an average home for less than the operating cost of the smallest motor car.

Gas furnishes silent, modern, automatic refrigeration at an operating cost of less than four cents a day.

Even at 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, gas is the most economical fuel for cooking, water heating, house heating, refrigeration and many industrial uses.

FILE ENTRY IN OWENS DIVORCE

Terms of Property Settlement Included in Journal of Union County Judge.

Terms of a property settlement agreed upon Jan. 16 by Clifford A. Owens and Mabel Chapman Owens were embodied in a journal entry made yesterday by Judge F. LeRoy Allen, common pleas judge of Union county, who granted Mabel Owens a divorce from the Marion manufacturer.

Mr. Owens is to pay her $500 a month, providing she remains unmarried. He also agreed to transfer 20 shares of class B common stock in C. A. O., Inc., a holding company formed by Mr. Owens now holding securities valued at $434,800 in 10 different companies. Mr. Owens is to transfer to Fred W. Warner and J. Malcolm Strelitz, attorneys and trustees, an additional 30 shares of class B stock in the same corporations, with Mrs. Owens receiving dividends from all 50 shares.

Funds in the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. to the credit of John A. Owens are to be transferred to Robert C. Owens, their son, it was agreed. Mr. Owens agrees that the property on Vernon Heights boulevard, now in the name of Mrs. Owens, is to remain her property, and also gives her free title to a Pierce Arrow automobile.

Mr. Owens is to be given title for seven acres of land in Vernon Heights boulevard, now in her name, and also her interest in three vacant lots near Phoenix, Ariz., which they own jointly. Mrs. Owens is to acquire absolute title in a property in Paradise Valley, Arizona.

A cold does 3 things
"Pape's" stops them all

A cold always affects you in at least three ways. Air passages are inflamed and irritated. Perspiration is checked. Bowels are clogged with acid wastes from the mucous discharge. So doctors say you must do three things to be rid of a cold.

Pape's Cold Compound does all three! It reduces inflammation and swelling of the mucous membrane; it induces perspiration; opens the bowels. Chew one of these pleasant tablets and see how quickly nasal discharge stops; head clears; breathing becomes easy. See how that achy, feverish, weak feeling disappears. And "Pape's" doesn't stop with killing cold germs. It activates bowels and removes germs and acid wastes from the system. All drug stores—35c. Just remember "Pape's".—Adv.

FIRE LOSSES HERE LOWEST SINCE 1905

Mild Weather and Heavy Rains Explains Low Figure in January.

The mild weather and unusual amount of rain during the month was given by Fire Chief T. J. McFarland this morning as the explanation for the fewest fires and the lowest fire loss of any January in the past 27 years.

Eight calls were received during the month with fire losses estimated at $22 compared to 42 calls last January with fire losses estimated at $16,912. The record was the lowest since 1905, the chief said, when there were no calls during the entire month.

Up until Saturday the loss had reached only $4.90 the chief said, the fire at the home of W. E. May at 372 Leader street Saturday evening, the automobile fire at the home of L. R. Holland at 244 north Main street Sunday morning, swelled the loss to $22.

Old Interview Tells of Jap Boycott by China

"As regards the political situation, things are, of course, very much unsettled," Henry E. Raff, formerly of Marion, said in an interview on China, printed 11 years ago in the Butte Miner of Butte, Mont.

Raff, the son of Dr. E. H. Raffensperger of south Prospect street, had returned from China, where he was a representative in the far east of a paint and varnish company, and granted the interview to the newspaper.

A similarity of conditions between China and Japan 11 years ago and today, is evident from the trend of Raff's statements.

The boycott on Japanese goods, now one of the sore points between the two Asiatic countries, was a moot question 11 years ago. Raff made the following comment:

"The boycott against the Japanese goods in the northern part of the country is very effective, but while the feeling is high in the south, the boycott is not so fully enforced in that region."

One of the causes of China's lack of progress is given in his statement:

"The country has no common dialect or language. The people in the different sections vary a great deal. Those in the north are stockmen and farmers, while the merchants and the trading class come from the south. The southern men seem to be the brighter and more progressive."

Raff is now living in Burlington, Iowa.

Weather Major Topic of Discussion in January

Marion was way ahead in weather last month. The temperature was 10.9 degrees above the average for the month, and the rainfall was 2.7 inches more than the average as computed by the Ohio weather bureau.

Until the last day of the month, Marion gossiped of nothing but the weather. The unusually warm days for January were a conversational topic everywhere.

But the weatherman was persistent in his forecasts of colder weather, and finally, on the last day of the month, his prediction was realized.

Saturday night and early Sunday morning, the mercury skipped merrily down to 11 above zero, the low temperature for the winter.

Despite the summer-like days of the month, there were only two days that were clear from sunrise to sunset. Seventeen days were cloudy, almost a record for cloudy days, and 12 were partly cloudy.

The high temperature for the month was 68 on the 14th. In 1906 the maximum was 74, and in 1918, a low temperature for the month was set with the thermometer at 16 below zero.

The average temperature for the month is 27.6 degrees, but the average in Marion was 38.5.

According to records, the average snowfall for the month is 10 inches, but to date, Marion has had only flurries of snow that melted as they touched the ground.

Last month's unusual rainfall, general over the state, measured 5.61 inches. The average for the month is 2.9 inches.

Avoid Ugly Pimples

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Adv

"Give me Lucky Strike every time"

THEY'RE DOTTY ABOUT DOTTY

Dorothy Mackaill's great-great something-or-other was Bobbie Burns, the famous Scotch poet, and she's as popular in Hollywood as golf—'nother Scotch import. She is more popular with prop boys and electricians than any star in the chin-ema city. Her favorite pet is a Brazilian monkey. You see the monk in the new FIRST NATIONAL PICTURE, "SAFE IN HELL." Dorothy has smoked LUCKIES for six years, and not a cent was paid for her statement. We're mighty pleased with the nice things Dorothy Mackaill says about LUCKY STRIKES, and so we're making a sweeping bow and saying, "Thanks, Dorothy Mackaill."

"My throat is all important to me. No harsh irritants for yours truly. Give me LUCKY STRIKE every time. And pat yourself on the back for your new Cellophane wrapper with that tab which makes the package so easy to open."
